Workshop Title: Impressionistic Watercolour Workshop dates: 18 & 19 November 2017
Tutor: Tony Belobrajdic Time: 10.00 am to 4.00 pm
Member fee: $110 Non-member fee: $160 Closing date: Friday 3 November 2017

Description

Learn how to paint quick and expressive watercolours with fewer brush strokes, working from a photograph of your choice. You will work with large size brushes (sizes 12 or 16), adding shape against shape, stroke by stroke, almost never going over the same area twice and leaving large areas of paper untouched. The aim will be to create atmosphere, rather than to strictly copy the subject matter, by using a limited palette, oversimplifying shapes and avoiding adding too many details, regardless of the complexity of the subject matter. You will start with a very basic pencil sketch and, later in the workshop, no pencil at all, painting directly with brush. This approach is fun, rather quick and gives painting that fresh and spontaneous look.

This workshop will suit intermediate/advanced artists.

Materials list will be sent with booking confirmation.

Tony was born in Rijeka, Croatia in 1958. He studied Architecture and Engineering in Croatia, moved to New York in 1987 and since 1989 has lived and worked as a Freelance Artist in Sydney. Tony travels and paints overseas regularly, teaches watercolour classes and conducts workshops for intermediate to advanced levels at several Sydney art schools.
